To whomever it may concern,

Can I confirm that the engineers installing our new system here at Excelpress did an excellent job. They were Daniel Corcoran, Mark Shropshire and Matthew Strzala. We didn't have any problems regarding their work and they were friendly and approachable while here. We are very pleased with the high standard of work that these guys achieved during their time on our premises and would recommend their services in the future.

Please contact someone here if there is any more information required on this matter.

Regards,

Marie Fletcher
